CARRIED INTEREST & COMPENSATION SURVEY 2022

WELCOME

On the pages that follow you will find the results of Private Equity Professional's 2022 Carried Interest and Compensation Survey. This is the fifteenth edition of the survey which began in 2008. This year we had 434 funds participate - 414 from the United States, 10 from Canada, and the balance from Europe, Australia, and Asia. The survey's compensation data is comprised of salary, bonus and carried interest paid over the prior 12-month period. The survey was conducted from September 20 to October 24, 2022.

The chart to the right shows how the responding funds are dispersed by fund size. As you can see, the majority of responders were funds with capital commitments of less than $500 million (68%) with the largest group of responders comprised of funds with $250 million to $500 million in capital commitments (26%). Bookending the survey were funds with more than $1 billion of capital commitments (15%). The pie chart shows the percentage breakdown of all of the responders for this year's survey.

The data the survey presents is based on (1) six fund sizes; (2) one-year data for 2022; (3) five-year data for the period 2018 to 2022; (4) 11 position titles; and (5) five groups for carried interest allocation.

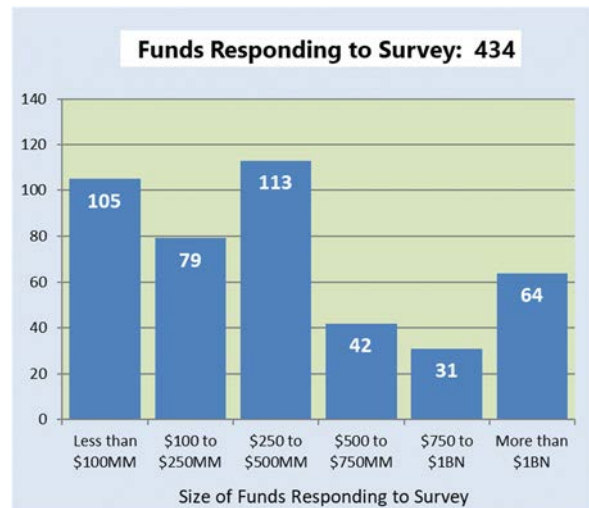

As you read the survey results, pay close attention to the colored squares that appear in the upper right corner of each page. These squares will provide you with important information about the survey data and how it is being presented. You will find the squares to be useful navigation aids.

Our thanks to everyone who participated in this year's survey. We couldn't do what we do without you.

REMOTE WORKING 2022

In 2020, 2021, and YTD 2022, did remote working requirements make your firm more productive, about the same, or less productive than prior years?

Will your firm allow for some form of remote work in 2023?

If yes to some form of remote work in 2023, what percent of your office employees do you anticipate will work remotely at least one day a week?
